

A patient story

Jack

Our Jack was seriously injured in a head-on car crash. He was badly injured and was taken straight to hospital. The A&E doctors were concerned that he was a bit confused. And so they arranged a scan and quickly detected that he had bleeding on his brain.

They then took him straight to the operating theatre for surgery. Without that emergency treatment, Jack might not be with us today.