

trauma who cannot maintain their airway and/or ventilation have drug-assisted rapid sequence induction (RSI) of anaesthesia and intubation within 45 minutes of the initial call to the emergency services.	348 (83.1 %)	19654 (63.4 %)
---	--------------------	----------------

Number of people with major trauma who cannot maintain their airway and/or ventilation.

Open limb injuries

Trauma Quality standard [QS166] March 2018:

People with open fractures of long bones, the hindfoot or midfoot have fixation and trauma who cannot maintain their airway and/or ventilation have drug-assisted rapid sequence induction (RSI) of anaesthesia and intubation within 45 minutes of the initial call to the emergency services.	35 (89.7 %)	1564 (82.2 %)
trauma who cannot maintain their airway and/or ventilation have drug-assisted rapid sequence induction (RSI) of anaesthesia and intubation within 45 minutes of the initial call to the emergency services.	348 (83.1 %)	19654 (63.4 %)

Number of people with major trauma who cannot maintain their airway and/or ventilation.

Open limb injuries

Trauma Quality standard [QS166] March 2018:

People with open fractures of long bones, the hindfoot or midfoot have fixation and	35 (89.7 %)	1564 (82.2 %)
---	----------------	---------------