

Health State Preference Project Survey

How to complete the next questions

In the questions that appear in the next section you will be presented with two imaginary health "scenarios". We want you to imagine what it would be like to live in each.

We then want you to tell us which health scenario you think is better.

Each scenario is made up of one of six "health states", and some additional information. The six health states are:

- A state of full health
- A health state with slight problems in walking about
- A health state where you are unable to walk about
- A health state with slight pain
- A health state with extreme pain
- A health state where are you extremely depressed

When answering the questions please imagine that you will experience each health state for the period shown without relief or treatment

Please imagine that death will be very swift and completely painless.

Please also imagine that you will have no other health problems besides what is indicated.

An example of the sort of question that you will be asked is below. Please complete the example.

Remember that there are no right or wrong answers to any of the questions.

		Health scenario A	Health scenario B
		You have mild depression for 10 years and then die	You live in full health for 5 years and then die
	Which scenario do you think is better?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

If you are happy with your answer you can click "Next Question" to enter the survey.

Please note that once you answered a question and clicked "Next Question" during the survey you will not be able to go back to the previous page and change your answers.
